

Dilshad Muhammad

PhD Candidate, Arnold Bergstraesser Institute / the University of Freiburg
Email: dilshad.muhammad@abi.uni-freiburg.de

Education

Since 03/2019	Doctoral student – Political Science / the University of Freiburg ALMA Fellow at Arnold Bergstraesser Institute, Freiburg
10/2012 – 05/2015	M.A. in Political Science and International Relations Istanbul Aydin University, Istanbul – Turkey
10/2005 – 07/2010	B.A. in English Language and Literature Tishreen University, Latakia – Syria
07/2005	Syria General Secondary Education Certificate – Scientific Branch Ibn Khaldun High School, Rass Alayn -

Experience

08/2016 – 12/2016	Guest Researcher - the German Development Institute (DIE), Bonn - Germany Area: Global Governance, German foreign Policy in the Middle East
06/2015 – 01/2016	Freelance Writer - Ultra Sawt: http://goo.gl/huZ6kU Aljumhuriya: http://goo.gl/4Njd9Z
02/2011 – 02/2014	Interpreter - Arabic localization and interpretation services, Istanbul, Turkey Clients included: Iraqi MoC & European Environment Agency
11/2011-11/2012	Freelance Journalist, Istanbul – Turkey (Deutsche Welle Arabic TV and Alquds Alarabi Newspaper).

Training

08/2016 – 11/2016	Managing Global Governance (MGG) Academy DIE, Bonn – Germany
10/2016 – 10/2016	International Futures (IF) Programme German Federal Foreign Office, Berlin

Membership

02/2018 - Now	Bosch Alumni Network
12/2017 - Now	BMW Foundation Responsible Leaders Network
12/2016 - Now	Global Diplomacy Lab

Papers and Contributions

I. Muhammad, D. (2017). Germany Should Assume a Bigger Role in the Middle East. German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE). Bonn, Germany. <https://goo.gl/svy7m0>

II. Pauw, W.P, Cassanmagnano, D., Mbeva, K., Hein, J., Guarin, A., Brandi, C., Bock, T., Helms, J., Zalewski, A., Frommé, E., Lindener, A., Muhammad, D. (2016). NDC Explorer. German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE), Bonn and African Centre for Technology Studies (ACTS), Nairobi. DOI: 10.23661/ndc_explorer_2016_1.0

III. Muhammad, D., & Katman, F. (2015). Tracing Kurdish Politics in Syria and its Prospects. in: Syria: Moving Beyond the Stalemate. [1-3 July 2015] St. Andrews, Scotland: Centre for Syrian Studies, University of St Andrews.

Languages: Kurdish and Arabic: Bilingual | English: professional proficiency | Turkish: B2 | German: B2